

Working individuals or families may be eligible for the Commonwealth of Virginia income tax credit.

Credit for Low Income Individuals

The Credit for Low Income Individuals (CLI) is a tax credit for people who work hard and don't make much money. You must meet certain requirements to be eligible.

If your total family Virginia adjusted gross income is less than the amounts established under federal poverty guidelines, or the United States Department of Health and Human Services Poverty guidelines, you may qualify to claim the CLI.

Two ways to increase your income:

✓ The Federal Earned Income Tax Credit

✓ The Virginia Credit for Low Income Individuals

Find out if you qualify for the CLI by visiting:
